

I have learned to remain very calm in face of adversity...

Hear from one of our incredible learners from Anchor who has experienced the journey firsthand.

My Apprenticeship Journey

Motivated to develop professionally and personally, Beverley undertook this apprenticeship to enhance her skillset and career prospects.

Beginning her apprenticeship journey as part of a pilot group, Beverley understood the challenges that might come with understanding the apprenticeship process. But with the support of her incredible tutor Rebecca, she managed to overcome these obstacles and persevered.

Beverley's completion of her apprenticeship project was the highlight of her journey, showcasing the range of skills and knowledge that she had acquired during her programme. Beverley found that the inspirational and supportive coaching from her tutor, Rebecca, was a huge support system during her time on programme, and Rebecca's enthusiasm and encouragement proved instrumental in guiding Beverley to the finish line!

Beverley Smart

Level 4 Senior Housing and Property Management Apprentice

Despite the demanding nature of her role, Beverley successfully organised time for her studies ensuring she could work and achieve the best possible outcome. And she even gained her additional IRPM qualification during her course!

Grasping every opportunity she could, Beverley undertook many CPD courses, but particularly enjoyed the stress and conflict management ones. She has acquired skills in website creation and monitoring alongside knowledge of housing legislation and building safety, enhancing her expertise!

She has widened her knowledge of legislation, working with the fire, health and safety teams to practically apply what she had learned for a multi-occupied building they are responsible for to exceed safety requirements for the building.
